

OpenMarkov's organization

White rounded rectangles represent OpenMarkov projects. Yellow rounded rectangles represent external libraries. Black links denote hardcoded dependencies. Green links denote dynamic dependencies discovered at runtime via annotations; for example, the GUI will detect dynamically the available algorithms, and exact inference algorithms will detect automatically the available heuristics.